Configuration Manager

Use this page to control the settings of your DokuWiki installation. For help on individual settings refer to config. For more details about this plugin see plugin:config.

Settings shown with a light red background are protected and can not be altered with this plugin. Settings shown with a blue background are the default values and settings shown with a white background have been set locally for this particular installation. Both blue and white settings can be altered.

Remember to press the Save button before leaving this page otherwise your changes will be lost.
